Discussion: Public feedback from numerous businesses including Anthonys. Feedback summary: Why are we requiring composting before composting the waste is available to the town? The coffee shops feel targeted as these are items they use most. The costs will rise so the costs to consumers will rise and consumers locally are more price sensitive than tourists and will drive further for a lower price. Condiments should be allowed to be put out in the open so guests don't have to get in line again if forgotten. While this seems like a small change, what's next? Businesses feel constantly squeezed by regulations. Cup design is expensive to redo, if available on compostable items.
